Mayor criticized for purchase

Council OKs 'emergency' expenditure

By HENRY CANTIN

The purchase of road servicing equipment by the City of Romulus administration violated provisions of the City charter, it was disclosed at the Jan. 4 meeting of the Romulus City Council.

The disclosure and admission by Mayor Hyle J. Carmichael of violating the city charter in the purchase of the road equipment brought sharp criticism from some members of the city council.

The mayor, in reporting the council on the details of the purchase, cited the necessity and reasons for the April 15 purchase of a used chloride tank truck at a cost of $6,250.

At a previous session, council members had requested information and an explanation on the purchase of the chloride tank truck.

The city charter requires the taking of sealed bids on the purchase of materials in excess of $750 and the right of the city council to accept or reject the sealed bids.

In making his report to the council, Mayor Carmichael stated the city had an excellent opportunity to procure a piece of road servicing equipment at a reasonable price and that the city was in dire need of it.

William Pritula, director of the Romulus Department of Public Works, reported the used 1970 tank truck was purchased from the Genesee Saginaw Road Oil Co. of Birch Run through an advertisement published by the firm. The company was in the process of liquidating, he stated.

He also reported no bids were taken for the purchase. He explained the difficulty of taking bids unless the city advertises the specific particulars of the tank truck and questioned how other bidders could match the specifications.

The city has been using a "homemade" chloride tank truck which consisted of chloride dispensing equipment mounted on a trailer and pulled by a truck, an operation which took two men. The 1970 truck can be operated by one man and does a more complete job.

In other instances the city used private firms to chlorinate the city streets. Pritula reported numerous complaints were received on the incompleteness of such firms to do the job properly.

Council President Jimmie Raspberry said the city charter sets up the responsibilities of the city council and requires the taking of sealed bids on purchases in excess of $750.

"Are you telling us that you violated the charter that requires the taking of bids?" Raspberry asked the mayor. Mayor Carmichael stated, "I have violated the charter."

The mayor said the tank truck was paid out of capital assets when asked how it was purchased.

sale, so we bought it on the spot," Carmichael said. Councilman Brooker R. Edwards said, "I don't object to buying the truck. I feel that it should have been brought before the council and that it should have been on a warrant owned bill by the city."

Councilman James C. Stewart said, "I knew about the truck. This truck was definitely needed. I have watched the regular chloride companies traveling down city streets at 50-miles-per-hour. You can't get much chloride on the streets at that speed."

"I think the truck earns its pay. It is a real asset," Stewart said. "I am not condoning the way it was purchased. I can overlook it."

Councilman Ellis T. Pennington said, "There is no doubt in (Continued on Page 3)

Bizek blasts mayor

By HENRY CANTIN

Romulus Councilman Edmund W. Bizek sharply criticized the administration of Mayor Hyle J. Carmichael Monday.

Mayor Carmichael is the city's first mayor, elected to office in May, 1970 when voters approved city incorporation for Romulus. In a statement blasting the mayor for his "lack of leadership and city spending," Councilman Bizek said:

"The citizens of Romulus are going to be faced with serious problems in the coming year if the present administration, along with the council doesn't get down to business.

"The meeting of Jan. 4, 1972 showed me that the mayor is lacking in his duties as a full time official in exercising his responsibilities to the people of Romulus and the city council.

"For now it comes out that the mayor has violated the city charter in spending by purchasing a road sprayer at an auction for some figure over $6,000.

"It is a fact that I have voted for purchasing equipment to better the roads and conditions of Romulus, but the matter in which the transaction occurred disturbs me.

"The mayor on his own spent city money without council authorization and did not show the expense on the warrants, but rather spent the money under a capital outlay account.

"I feel the 1971-72 city budget with its four mill increase has somewhat hit the pockets of our taxpayers to a certain extent, and it is with the mayor who first vetoed the budget due to insufficient funds.

"But yet the mayor is asking for additional help for the new recreation director. The mayor requested that an assistant recreation director be hired at salary of $8,500, and the position is not included in our fiscal budget.

"I feel our community needs much improvement. However, how much burden are we going to impose on the taxpayer? We cannot plunge into something over night," Bizek stated.

"I think it's time for Mayor Carmichael to realize that everything is not going to be all his way and that better communications with the council might benefit the community.

"The conflict between the mayor and the legislative body will have to stop and cooperation will have to start or citizens of this community will feel the effect.

"I think it's time for the mayor to be honest with himself and the taxpayers of this community and start performing his duties to benefit Romulus," Bizek concluded.

Enforcement tightened on inoperable car law

A stepped-up enforcement program of Romulus' Inoperable Motor Vehicle Ordinance was announced Monday by Romulus Police Chief and Chief Ordinance Enforcement Officer Jacob J. Hoch.

In announcing the city's campaign to rid Romulus of inoperable vehicles or "junks," Chief Koch first asked for the cooperation of Romulus residents in disposing of junked cars and added that violators of the ordinance can be jailed up to 90 days, fined up to $500 or both.

In a recent report to city council, Mayor Hyle J. Carmichael disclosed that from Nov. 1, 1971 to Jan. 1, 1972, 40 inoperable motor vehicles have been located in various areas of the city. The owners of these junked cars were given instructions to dispose of them, and all but three have complied.

Koch reported the three who have failed to dispose of the cars were ticketed and will face proceedings in the 34th District Court.

The police chief said those who want to get rid of their inoperable cars can contact him at 941-0666. He added the only requirement is a transfer of the title to police and the car will be sent to the junk pile or elsewhere for disposition.

Residents are reminded the ordinance declares it to be "unlawful for any persons, firm or corporation to store, place or permit to be stored or placed any inoperable motor vehicle or any part or parts of a motor vehicle on land located in the City of Romulus unless said inoperable motor vehicle shall be kept in a wholly enclosed garage or other wholly enclosed structure for a period not to exceed 48 hours. The owners or occupants of the land where the inoperable car is stored, in the event of hardship and upon payment of a fee, may secure a permit from the Romulus Building Department to extend the 48 hours one additional week.

Inoperable motor vehicles are defined in the ordinance as motor vehicles which by reason of dismantling, disrepair or other cause are incapable of being propelled under their own power, or are unsafe for operation in the streets and highways of Michigan because of inability to comply with the State Motor Vehicle Code.

Should city pay for improvement?

The Romulus City Council is seeking clarification on the allocation of expenses in connection with improvements made at the Tobine Road crossing of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway Co. in the city.

The council has ordered an inquiry be made by the railway company and by the Michigan Public Service Commission on the responsibility for paying the cost of the railroad crossing improvements.

The railway company has requested the city to pay for the improvements made at the railroad crossing.

Four Detroiters caught

Councilman assaulted

Romulus Councilman Edmund W. Bizek was assaulted and robbed by four men while leaving a Romulus supermarket Sunday night.

The alertness of Councilman Bizek in observing the license number of the men's car led to their arrest minutes after the hold-up by the Wayne County Sheriff's Department Road Patrol Division officers.

Held on armed robbery charges are Ronald Baker, 21, of 6050 Whitewood St., Norman Baker Jr., 25, of 3453 Hart St., Lonnie William Anderson, 18, of 1610 Garland Ave.; and Curtis James Wooden, 19, of 1620 Belvidere St. all of Detroit.

Two young girls who were with the men were questioned and released.

The four men were arraigned before 34th District Court Judge James B. Stone on charges of unarmed robbery. All stood mute and the court entered pleas of not guilty for the four men and scheduled pre-trial examination for Jan. 20.

Bizek reported he was on his way to visit friends in the general vicinity of the market when he decided to stop around 8:30 p.m. and shop for groceries at the Taylor Supermarket, located on S. Wayne Road between Ecorse and Van Born roads.

When leaving the store for his car parked nearby, the four men approached him from a car parked alongside his and pushed him up against his own car. One of the men threatened him with a knife, another hit him in the face, Bizek reported.

He said they searched him, taking his wallet with approximately $60, sundries and the keys to his car.

Secret witness fund proposed to reduce crime in Romulus

The creation of a "Secret Witness" fund to assist in eliminating or reducing the number of breaking and enterings in the City of Romulus has been proposed by Council President Jimmie Raspberry.

Raspberry suggested the secret witness fund at the Jan. 4 meeting when making his report to council colleagues.

Councilman William M. Oakley, supported by Councilman James C. Stewart, made a motion that a communication be directed to the city legal department requesting an investigation to check the feasibility of establishing such a fund for the apprehension and conviction of criminals.

The motion received the unanimous support of the council.

Councilman Raspberry, in proposing the fund's creation, stated, "We have had a lot of breaking and enterings in the city. All sections of the city are involved. It seems that people don't want to get involved."

"I submit this as an idea that we set aside a $2,000 Secret Witness fund and reward the sum of $100 for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the person or persons responsible for these crimes or other crimes committed in the city. He added that a committee composed of a member from the Wayne County Sheriff's Department, city attorney, city official or member of the law enforcement agencies could judge on the eligibility of awarding the rewards.

"I think that $2,000 is a small amount to spend for stamping out these breaking and enterings into Romulus homes and business places," Raspberry said.

He cited, as did Councilman Brooker R. Edwards, recent break-ins of which they had personal knowledge.

Other councilmen stated the secret witness fund was an excellent idea.

Area drug program meeting set for Romulus

Group sought to coordinate activities

An all-out effort aimed at coordinating a comprehensive drug program for the entire Western Wayne County area will kick off at a meeting to be held Monday, Jan. 24, at 2 p.m. in the Romulus City Hall.

Plans for this meeting, at which the cooperation of virtually every segment of community activity will be enlisted, have been drafted by a special Drug Steering Committee which held its organizational meeting Jan. 5 in the administration building of the Peoples Community Hospital Authority (PCHA) in Wayne.

Called by Dr. Karl S. Klicka, executive director of PCHA, the primary objective of the discussion was to formulate some type of coordinating group to correlate the activities of the many different drug programs currently functioning in Western Wayne County.

"The need for such a coordinating group becomes more obvious every day as additional individual communities launch some type of drug program," said Dr. Klicka. "It has become apparent that in order to deliver the best possible care to the drug dependent individuals in the area, a coordinating agency should be established that will eliminate duplication of effort, and through which requests for funding can be channeled."

In order to insure that the Jan. 24 meeting will have the scope necessary to make it most effective, it was agreed by the Steering Committee that invitations should be sent to mayors and supervisors of all municipalities in the area, county commissioners, state senators and representatives, Congressional representatives, all existing drug care centers, all health care facilities in the areas involved and state and federal agencies involved in drug related care.

Myles P. Lash, assistant to Dr. Klicka and chairman of the Drug Steering Committee, said in commenting on the forthcoming meeting: "It is hoped that out of this gathering of distinguished civic and political leaders, health care professionals and interested community individuals a program will evolve that is capable of recognizing and meeting the full spectrum of social, psychological and medical needs of the drug dependent individuals."

"It is also hoped that this organization can embrace the following goals: (1) lower the cost of solving a community's drug problem by disseminating pertinent information through educational sessions and by discouraging the development of duplicate community-based drug programs; (2) guarantee community residents access to the services of the various drug related treatment centers; (3) assure that these services, in the aggregate, are comprehensive in nature, and (4) maintain an organization which would demand accountability from the various providers of service."

Serving with Lash as officers of the Steering Committee are Mrs. Jean Melton of the Hegira Drug Center in Inkster as vice-chairman, and David Osborne of the Community Commission on Drug Abuse as secretary. Other members of the committee are Dr. Karl S. Klicka, Inkster Mayor Edward Bivens, Romulus Mayor Hyle J. Carmichael, Westland Councilman Mrs. Justine Barnes, Hiram McNeeley, secretary of the PCHA board of directors, Charles H. Ward, assistant administrator of Garden City Osteopathic Hospital, Earl Lamb, assistant principal of Romulus High School and director of the Romulus HELP Center, Walter S. Wheeler, administrator of Annapolis Hospital, Charles Klevgard, director of social services at Annapolis Hospital and Frank MacDonald, alcoholism therapist at Annapolis Hospital.

The service areas under consideration for this coordinated effort include the following municipalities: Cities of Northville, Livonia, Belleville, Dearborn, Garden City, Dearborn Heights, Inkster, Plymouth, Taylor, Wayne, Westland, Romulus. Townships of Canton, Huron, Northville, Plymouth, Redford, Sumpter and Van Buren.

Mayor criticized

my mind that it is a good asset. I would have been in full accord. I am not condoning the mayor's action. I feel that spending this much money without council approval is wrong.

"We allow the mayor $12,000 for emergencies without council approval. I vote no on the mayor's report. I will not be a part of allowing the mayor to spend city funds in this amount without council approval," Pennington said.

Rasperry added, "I don't know. I do feel that we have this bible (the charter) which lays out our responsibilities. It is unfortunate. The method of this transaction is a violation of the charter. There are no grounds for it.

"I don't know what is going to happen. I can't condone such action. I should think that if you had a good buy that you would let us know. I think we are in the same spot as River Rouge. (River Rouge officials are now under state investigation).

Councilman William M. Oakley said, "The mayor has admitted his goof. Several here stated they don't condone it. Four months ago we purchased two dump trucks. We already have condoned such action by the council. We took it upon ourselves, as the council couldn't get bids on used equipment."

Pennington was quick to answer Oakley.

"I take exception to Oakley's statement. It is not true, "Pennington charged." The mayor told the council about those dump trucks. We gave him our blessing. We couldn't get bids as "used bids."

A motion to approve the mayor's report as presented to the council was approved by a 3-2 roll call vote. Rasperry and Councilman Edmund Bizek abstained. Councilman Pennington and Edwards voted against the motion and Councilmen Stewart, Oakley and Fred Junior Block approved it.

Appointment made by mayor

The appointment of Frank J. Tolish, 29, of Lansing, as Director of Recreation in Romulus was made by Mayor Hyle J. Carmichael and was not a city council appointment, Councilman James C. Stewart reported Monday.

Mayor Carmichael selected Tolish on the recommendation of the Romulus Recreation Commission from a list of three of four applications, Stewart stated.

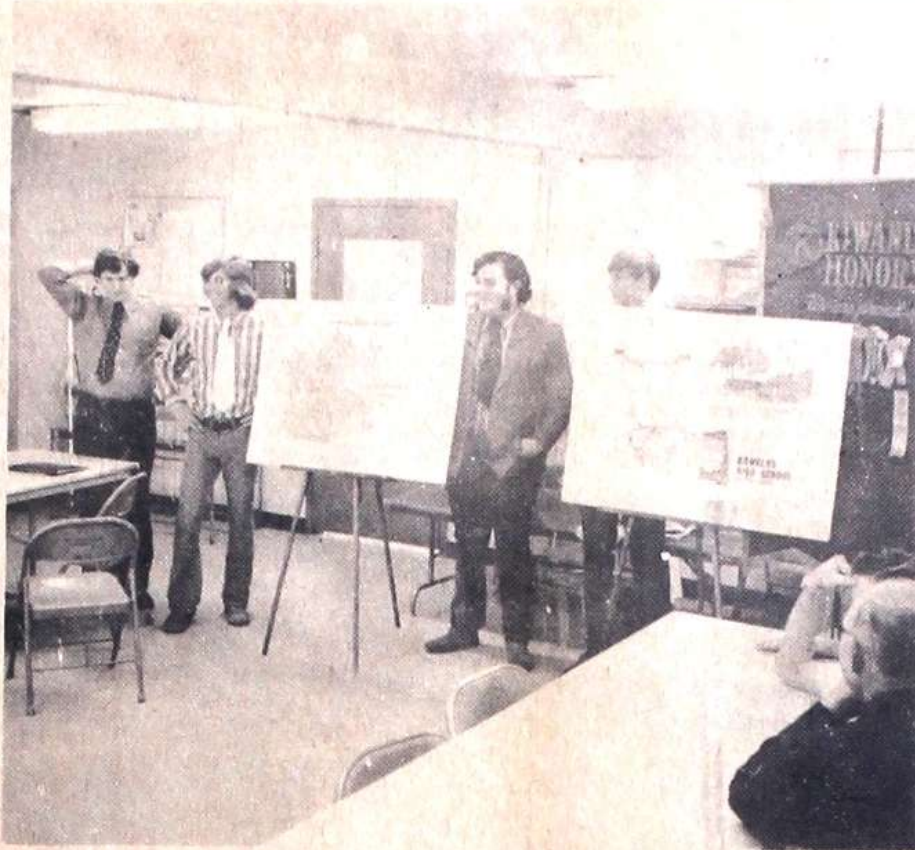

In a previous issue of the Romulus Roman, it was reported the appointment of Tolish was approved by the city council on the recommendation of the Romulus Recreation Commission.

Under the city charter, department heads are appointed by the mayor.

Tolish assumed his duties two weeks ago at an annual salary of $8,800.

Western Michigan quarterback Ted Grignon of Dearborn ended his varsity career with 3,627 yards in total offense, almost 1,600 markers more than any previous Bronco.

Crackdown announced on 'dumpers' in city

A campaign to eliminate the depositing of large items of household furniture and trash in the city was initiated Monday by the Romulus administration.

The campaign is aimed principally at what city officials called "dumpers," persons who drive into Romulus to discard their unwanted household items in less traveled areas of the city and alongside road ditches in vacant areas.

Police Chief Jacob J. Koch was instructed by Mayor Hyle J. Carmichael to get community-wide cooperation in the enforcement of the city's rubbish ordinance.

Residents are being asked by the police chief to watch for any "dumpers" and to immediately call police when one is spotted.

During the past months ice boxes, refrigerators, stoves and other large items discarded by their owners have been found in various sections of the city, police reported.

Residents also were instructed not to dump their large household items or machinery parts but to call the police for instructions on the handling of such refuse.

The city has weekly rubbish pick-ups and conducts a city-wide clean-up campaign during the month of June each year. Even though, police and the city's Department of Public Works employees find large discarded items around the city.

The crackdown campaign and other "Keep the City Clean" programs followed a conference of city, police and DPW officials at Romulus City Hall last Thursday.

Bizek, who reported he was not seriously hurt, had nothing but praise for the quick action of the road patrol.

Scholarships await 4-H members

This year 4-H members in a 13-state area are expected to share over $13,000 in scholarships and other educational awards provided by Santa Fe Railway System and Santa Fe-Gulf Central Pipeline Co.

People who forget to renew their driver license on time may find it more expensive by the time they remember, according to Secretary of State Richard H. Austin.

In one of the state budget bills, the Michigan Legislature inserted a provision that the department of state collect a $2 penalty fee for all driver license renewals that are applied for more than 90 days after their expiration date.

'71 marks expansion for Romulus Library

For the first half of 1971, the Romulus Library staff anxiously awaited the completion of the new library building. The 13,000 books in the collection were overflowing the shelves, and circulation was low. Finally, in June, the building was ready.

The library was closed for two weeks while books were shifted to the new building and the boxes of new books were brought in, unpacked and shelved.

Many volunteers helped the staff with both the processing and shelving of the new books. The library reopened on June 28 with more than 20,000 books on the shelves.

Summer programs began immediately in the new building, with more than 100 children registering in the Summer Reading Club and high attendance at the Friday Film Festivals and Pre-School Story Hour sessions.

Programs have continued into the fall with a new Pre-School Story Hour group and periodic programs for elementary school children.

A new activity at the library is the Bibles Club for Fourth through Sixth graders who are interested in helping their library.

The library has an expanding collection of audio-visual materials, records for use at home or in the library, and cassette tapes, 8 m.m. films, filmstrips and view masters for use in the library.

The reference collection has been expanded and updated. The Thomas Register of Manufacturers and Moody's Collection of Financial Publications and Investment Services are two major additions. A copying machine has been added as an additional service.

The library is looking forward to increasing its programs and service to the people of Romulus in the new year, Miss Diane Covert, librarian, announced.

Romulus council considers consolidating departments

The Romulus City Council was requested to consider the consolidation of the Romulus Public Housing Commission (PHC) and the Romulus Urban Renewal Department under one department head.

The public housing program is run by a Public Housing Commission and a part-time director. The Urban Renewal Department is under the direction of George Wilhelm. Both agencies operate with federal grants approved.

Council President Jimmie Rasperry, in making his request and report to council, stated he "doesn't think full effort is being put forth. I believe that in the next three years urban renewal will be one of our major development programs. I would like to appoint a committee to study PHC responsibilities with an idea of consolidating the PHC with the Urban Renewal Department as all are operated with public funds." Mayor Hyle J. Carmichael stated he thought the idea deserved consideration.

Equivalency tests set

Huron Senior High School will again administer the General Educational Development (GED) test, Roger Benner, school-community director, announced.

The test, commonly called the High School Equivalency Examination, makes it possible for men and women who have left school without receiving their diplomas an opportunity to receive an equivalency certificate.

Huron High School also will give credits toward actual high school diplomas upon successful completion of the examination.

Testing will be done on Saturday, Jan. 15, from 8 a.m. to noon, Monday, Jan. 17 from 6 to 10 p.m., and Tuesday, Jan. 18 from 6 to 8 p.m.

The test is free if the individual is enrolled in the high school's Adult Education Class or is a resident of the Huron School District.

The cost is $15 for persons living out of the school district who are not enrolled in the program, Benner said.

For more information call Benner or Chris Fields at 782-3357 between the hours of 8 a.m. and 4 p.m. and 6 to 10 p.m.

Idea of 'Put a thief out of business' works

An Ann Arbor housewife was surprised recently when the police chief telephoned her to say: "Come and get that TV and stereo set that was stolen from your home."

Her surprised reaction happened because she didn't know the set had been stolen. When she sent to the police station to pick up her possessions, she recognized them immediately.

Police told her they had found the TV and stereo in a field near the south end of town along with a rifle, handgun, water skis, a guitar and a silver tea service.

How had police so quickly known where to locate the owners of the stolen loot?

Credit "Operation Identification."

This is an anti-burglary tactic that is beginning to spread in popularity across the nation. It is particularly popular in suburban towns near large metropolitan cities where the high crime incidence flows over onto suburbia.

"Operation Identification" is simple.

A home or apartment owner — or the youngsters with their skis and bicycles — just engraves his license number on his TV sets, radios, snow skis, tape recorders, stereos, cameras, jewelry, bikes, electric appliances, lawn tools — any article a burglar is apt to take. He uses an electric engraving pencil.

He also slaps a small sticker on doors, windows where burglars might try to break into a home or apartment, "all items of value on these premises have been marked for easy identification by law enforcement agencies" — that's what the sticker says.

The idea is to convince potential thieves not to break in before he makes an attempt.

Secondly, marked items are easily retrieved by police. They also are "hot" items for thieves who steal primarily to "fence them" with a pawn broker or someone who deals in stolen goods. Such dealers shun marked items.

Consequently, the burglar misses out on cash to support — primarily these days — the drug habit.

College students home for the holidays report that this electric pen marking identification of their possessions has cut down on thievery in college dormitories and apartments.

"Operation Identification" was adopted on a statewide basis in Michigan, by Independent Insurance Agents. They've been urging "Put a thief out of business."

Homeowners insurance people and police are elated with "Operation Identification." Early location of owners of stolen goods eliminates a city's need to maintain huge storage areas for stolen goods.

Police have found that a centralized computer system for driver licensing, such as Michigan has, makes the program successful before it starts.

Michigan's state police director, Col. John R. Plants, says that "Operation Identification" has caught on in 25 Michigan cities to date.

In addition, campus police are making electric engraving pencils available to students at Michigan State University and at the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor.

In fact, in Ann Arbor, "Operation Identification" was being applied to all university possessions by last month.

At last someone has come up with a gimmick to make it easy to put a thief out of business. It's a simple way for everyone to protect his own property.

Millage up for vote March 13

By ROBERT L. MCCONEGHY, Superintendent of Romulus Schools

The Romulus Board of Education has received approval from the Wayne County Elections Scheduling Committee to hold a millage election on Monday, March 13.

There will be only one issue on the ballot and that will be the renewal of 10 mills for operating purposes. School district taxpayers have been paying this tax for the past five years, as approval to levy the tax for five years was given by the voters at an election held June 12, 1967. These 10 mills expired with the 1971 tax levy.

Approximately $1,500,000 is provided for the operation of the school district by that levy. Some publicity has been given as to what this $1,500,000 means to the school budget. For one thing, it represents 25 per cent of the funds necessary to operate the schools this year.

In order for the school district to continue with even the current operation, it is imperative that these expiring ten mills be renewed. Without the revenue provided, it will mean the school district will have to cut its operating budget by 25 per cent.

The Board of Education has no reserve funds or "money in the bank" to replace this tax revenue. It is faced with the same decision that a family would face if the take home pay of the main wage earner was reduced by 25 per cent, except that the family could make the decision to continue spending and "go in debt."

The Board of Education does not have this choice. The Michigan Attorney General issued an opinion No. 4673 on Sept. 23, 1971, indicating a local board of education is prohibited by law from knowingly adopting a budget in which proposed expenditures exceed funds on hand and reasonably estimated anticipated revenues.

The Board of Education must adopt a balanced operating budget.

For the 1972-73 school year, it will be necessary for the board to estimate its revenues long before school starts in the fall, and plan accordingly — with the ten mills or without it.

How will the Board of Education cut the program by 25 per cent?

This decision hopefully will not have to be made, but if it does — personnel cuts will have top priority, as salaries and wages paid to personnel represent approximately 85 per cent of the operating budget.

During the next few weeks information relative to possible cutbacks will be forthcoming in this newspaper.

Any citizen having suggestions to offer, comments to make or questions to ask, is encouraged to contact the Superintendent of Schools at 36540 Grant Rd., Romulus - or phone 941-1600.

Lady mailman feels she is not appreciated

To the editor:

Maybe I am way out in left field with this statement, but I don't think enough people appreciate their mailmen (ladies).

As I am a mail lady, I feel this is true. If every one at Christmas time would show us they do care by giving a card or even 25 cents, we would feel more wanted. After all, if it weren't for us mail carriers, your cards and packages wouldn't get delivered.

Most carriers even helped people who can't get out or won't get out by buying stamps for them.

I do like my job very much, I've never had a day drag by yet, it's interesting work and each day is different. And we carriers do our best to deliver on time and correctly (weather and mail load permitting).

Senate-stalled bills up for consideration

By EDUARDE E. MAHALAK
State Representative
38th District

ratifying the amendment to the U.S. Constitution to allow a lowering of the voting age from 21 to 18 was ratified.

The legislature set an overall 10-year record for session days in 1971. The House was in session for 155 days and the Senate for 144 days.

There will be one amendment to the state statutes, at least, on the ballot in 1972. This is the question of full citizenship rights and responsibilities to persons 18 years old or older. While Michigan was the second state in the nation to pass such a law, it has, though a number of bills, enacted a more comprehensive "bill of rights" to those 18 to 21 than any other state, as of this date.

A revision and updating of Michigan's drug laws, to classify all dangerous drugs, narcotics and marijuana and to set schedules of penalties which are more uniform and realistic than ever before.

Others eliminate the question or fault (or guilt) in divorce cases, strengthen state controls over snowmobile operation and licensing and lower the alcohol content in the blood necessary to prove drunk or impaired driving ability. The later bill places Michigan in line with federal standards.

While it is impossible to go into all the bills passed last year, I will be glad to answer written inquiries about any bill, whether it has been enacted or still is before the legislature.

The Michigan Legislature will resume its 1971-72 session today (Wednesday).

This can be a great opportunity for both the House and the Senate to move forward on a number of bills which have been stalled in Senate Committees. Among them are measures I introduced or co-sponsored to increase veterans' benefits for those young men who are returning from service in Vietnam and Bills to ease the tax load of senior citizens.

It must be remembered that the 1971 bills which were not enacted into law or did not pass both the House and Senate are very much alive in 1972, unless those bills were defeated.

Almost the first order of business will be appropriations bills for 1972, but before those are considered, the 1971 bills still awaiting action in the House and Senate will be taken up.

During the 1971 session, there were 1,841 bills introduced in the House and 1,111 in the Senate. Of these, 211 were enacted into law and one House joint resolution,

ONE YEAR AGO

Jan. 12, 1971 — Canton Township has received notification from the Michigan Department of Health that it must take immediate action to bring its sanitary landfill up to standards, Supervisor Philip Dingeldey told township board members.

In what could be called "out with the old and in with the new," the City of Wayne has hopes to remodel the eastern section of the city hall at 34808 Sims Ave. this year.

Fiscal reform on a statewide basis is the only rational solution to the financial plight of the Inkster Public Schools, according to report released by the district's Advisory Committee on School Finance.

"It will be rough, but our committee is convinced after looking at the facts that this is what has to be done," Hiram McNeely, the committee's co-chairman explained.

Pneumatic tubes will enable tellers at drive-in windows to service three customers at one time when the new building of the Merriman-Middlebelt branch of the National Bank of Detroit is completed.

A contemporary building of 37,000 square feet will replace the temporary trailer facilities of the branch, which was established in Garden City in July 1968, said William Schuster, branch manager. It is expected to be completed this fall.

In years gone by...

A look through The Daily Eagle files at news of Western Wayne County one, 15 and 25 years ago:

25 YEARS AGO

Jan. 12, 1947 — A plea for skating facilities for southside children and charges that they are forced to skate and slide in the street was received by the Eagle.

Writing to the editor, Mr. and Mrs. John Levenworth, 4858 Walker Street, charge that the children are skating, sliding and hitching rides behind cars.

The Young People's Fellowship of St. John's Episcopal Church turned out in full skating regalia, when they hiked to the Wayne Recreation Skating Pond.

After several hours of skating, the group went back to Friendly House where they ate the lunches they had brought, and were served hot chocolate by Mrs. Replogle and some of the girls.

Initial plans for two new community building projects in Romulus are released. They call for the construction of a new Catholic church and a community center.

The Romulus Progressive Club has purchased eight lots on Ozga Road near Five Points, Romulus, for the purpose of building a community center.

The Romulus Progressive Club has purchased eight lots on Ozga Road near Five Points, Romulus, for the purpose of building a

It has come to the attention of the city council that many local merchants have not filed notarized personal property declaration used by a board of review who compute taxes.

These forms were due Jan. 7. While not obligated by law to do so, merchants must comply with the customer be prepared to submit their property inspection by the city.

St. Norbert's parish, Inkster, in co-operation with the Detroit Archdiocesan Council of Catholic Women, is sponsoring a series of six lectures for parents on "Parent-Child Education."

State Superintendent of Public Instruction Clair Taylor has certified that the Romulus School District has a population of at least 10,000, thereby clearing the way for the district to change its status from a fourth class to a third class school district.

'Disney on Parade' coming to Detroit's Olympia Stadium

Mickey Mouse, Donald Duck, Goofy, Sleeping Beauty and legions of Walt Disney's other well-loved characters come alive in the fabulous "Disney on Parade" musical extravaganza at the Olympia Stadium from Tuesday, Feb. 15 through Sunday, Feb. 20.

Now in its third year, this two-and-a-half hour musical stage show sparkles and glows with the unforgettable songs, the pageantry and the humor that sums up the genius of Walt Disney. More than 100 Disney characters leap to life in ten major production numbers with specially designed costumes and massive colorful settings.

This delightful confection combines all the best elements of a stage revue, with Disney music, costumes, characters and settings, plus excellent choreography and the extra dimension of magic and illusion.

Each of the production numbers opens with a specially created brief film segment on the large screen in the storybook castle that completely fills one end of Olympia. Each movie sequence establishes the story-line and then flows into the live adaptations.

Among the highlights are the numbers, some hilarious and some enchanting, from Sleeping Beauty; Winnie The Pooh, with his comic companions Eeyore, Tigger and Piglet; The Three Caballeros, featuring Donald Duck and his side kicks Jose Carioca and Panchito; The Aristocats, complete with the Duchess, her beloved kittens and O'Malley the loveable alley cat; and Mickey's Review featuring world known Mickey Mouse.

Performances will be offered from Tuesday, Feb. 15 through Thursday, Feb. 17 at 7:30 p.m.; on Friday, Feb. 18 at 4:30 p.m. and 8:30 p.m.; on Saturday, Feb. 19 at noon, 4 p.m. and 8 p.m.; on Sunday Feb. 20 at 2 p.m. and 6 p.m.

Tickets are priced at $6, $5, and $4 and can be purchased at the Olympia and all major J.L. Hudson and Sears stores. Juniors (12-years-old and under) and senior citizens receive one half off the regular price for all performances.

CARROLL RICHTER'S horoscope

Tomorrow's forecast from the Carroll Richter Institute

General tendencies: An unusual day for social, romantic, business, financial, or traveling matters. Think out a plan of action that can bring you pretty much what you want in the days ahead. Your judgment should be clear and you can get the goodwill and cooperation you desire.

Aries (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) A good day to plan some trip or to make changes not possible before. People with background different from yours can give you data you need. Go after it.

Taurus (Apr. 20 to May 20) You have an almost uncanny way of getting others to go ahead with some good plan you have in mind. Consider how to gain backing. Make it worthwhile for the other individual, too.

Gemini (May 21 to June 21) Go to own allies for the data you need just at this time and get right information. Ask them straight out instead of hedging. Then carry through with their suggestions and add to success.

Moon Children (June 22 to July 21) You have much work to do that will be profitable, so get an early start instead of procrastinating. Plan some time for health improvement, also. Don't delay on any dentistry you need done.

Leo (July 22 to Aug. 21) Ideal day for social and recreational activities that really appeal to you. Buy some nice gift for your mate which will make both of you happier.

Virgo (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) You can improve conditions at home considerably so more comfort and harmony reign there. Don't forget to buy whatever is really necessary. You may have some unexpected but welcome windfall today.

Libra (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) You have some excellent ideas that you can start putting in operation right now so your life will improve. Talk over joint ventures with allies and come to a satisfactory understanding. Don't waste time arguing.

Scorpio (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Show appreciation for the fine ideas that associates and others come up with now, especially experts in business. Follow through with the best. Save some time for personal friends who are anxious to see you.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You have some private plans that require immediate action now, although you cannot see how successful they may be. Making new contacts is fine. Have fun with good friends in the p.m.

Capricorn (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) An adviser will now give pieces of data that are fascinating. Be sure to keep them in confidence. You have a fine intuitive sense, so use it to your benefit. Don't permit others to impose on you in any way.

Aquarius (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Contacting good friends you want to be a part of your life in the future is wise. You can improve your social position now. Use those excellent talents you possess.

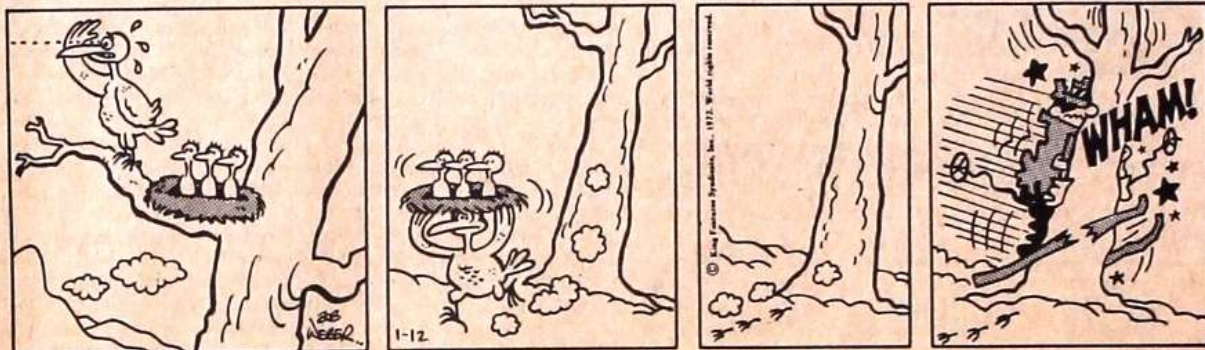

Pisces (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Contacting influential persons with whom you hit it off well can bring fine benefits. State your finest ambitions. You can get those new plans working as soon as you study them more. Show more affection for mate in p.m.

If your child is born today he or she will be one of those young people whose mind will roam the universe and beyond into space, so be sure to give the finest educational courses you can afford, and stress foreign languages as well. The judgment here will be particularly accurate, so be sure that the religious training necessary is also given early in order to maintain such a fine mind. There can and very likely will be fame in this chart, especially in pioneering professions.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to you.

Taken at Kennedy's autopsy

Romulus doctor awaits word on request to see pictures

A Romulus doctor who believes the late President John F. Kennedy was shot by two different people is awaiting official word as to whether or not he will be allowed to examine long-withheld pictures and X-rays taken at the president's autopsy.

Dr. E. Forrest Chapman, medical examiner of Wayne County, was among the first four physicians to apply to the National Archives for permission to examine the medical evidence.

Dr. Chapman has his office at 36825 Bibbins, Romulus, but lives at 259 E. Huron River Dr., Belleville.

The Archives received the documents from the Kennedy family in October, 1966 on condition that they be withheld from public examination for the next five years.

Burke Marshall, a representative of the Kennedy family, was given the task of deciding who will see the documents.

He granted permission last week for Dr. John K. Lattimer of New York to be the first non-government medical specialist to examine the evidence. Lattimer spent four hours looking over the material Friday but could not be reached for immediate comment on his findings.

Dr. Chapman said of his application for permission to view the medical evidence, "I agree with the Warren Commission report that Kennedy was hit by Lee Harvey Oswald in the head from behind, but I maintain that he also was shot by someone else from the front in the throat."

Chapman applied to see the pictures last Nov. 19 while he was in Washington at a pathology seminar.

He said he believes the throat wound was caused by gunfire of a second assassin ahead of the presidential car.

Dr. Chapman said he understood the pictures in the Archives were "fuzzy" and may not substantiate his personal belief about the conspiracy angle.

The other two doctors who have applied for permission to see the material are Dr. Cyril H. Wecht of Pittsburgh and Dr. John Nichols of the University of Kansas.

Warnings issued to renew licenses

Licensed business establishments and owners of other licensed activities operating in the City of Romulus were warned Monday by Police Chief and Ordinance Officer Jacob J. Koch to get their licenses renewed or face violation tickets.

Chief Koch reported that 1971 licenses expired Dec. 31 and many business establishments have not filed for license renewals for the 1972 year.

The police chief's warning was issued following a meeting with Mayor Hyle J. Carmichael and other city officials.

Among those businesses that have failed to renew their licenses to operate are parking lot owners, taxi cab operators, hotels, bulk food handlers, apartments and some restaurants.

Koch reported he is making a survey of the city in an ordinance enforcement campaign.

Unbeaten Romulus clashes with Rouge

Eagles stretch win streak to 6

The "big one." That's what it is for undefeated Romulus which will place a six-game basketball winning streak on the block when it clashes with River Rouge Friday night at Rouge.

Though there isn't a Twin Valley Conference title at stake (the league has been dissolved), there is basketball prestige involved. Rouge, the defending state Class B champ, has always been a thorn in Romulus' cage sides.

Last year Rouge managed to take both games, but winning the last game in the final seconds, 59-57. And Romulus Coach David Court feels its time to even up the score. He's 0-2 against Coach Lofton Greene's Panthers - and no area team has been able to do that to the Eagle mentor.

"The pressure is on us," said Court who in less than two seasons has turned Romulus' cage machine into a winning one. "We are riding the longest winning streak (6) in the history of the school and now we run up against a Rouge team that has lost two straight."

"Have you ever heard of Rouge losing three straight in basketball?" Court asked rhetorically.

Court said he felt that the two ball clubs had excellent defensive teams, "but I have a feeling someone is going to blow the other off the court and we working to make sure it isn't our team that is the victim."

With the return of captain Calvin Harris, the Eagles were at full strength Friday night and they gunned down Northville 74-57 for their sixth successive victory of the season against no losses.

Harris, who has been battling the flu, made his way back to Court's starting lineup and drilled in 20 points on eight field goals and four free throws.

Another ailing Eagle, 6-4 John Long, was the top scorer with 27 points. Long has also been idle because of a leg injury, but with 12 baskets and three free throws, the sophomore cager looked invincible.

Romulus went at Northville as if it was going to blow them back to the tote board at the Downs. The Eagles, with Long dumping in nine points, raced to a 22-10 first quarter advantage and were out in from 37-24 by halftime.

However, Northville, on the basket-supplying power from Jeff Moon, Bill Andrews and Rod Crane, who each had five points, cut the lead to seven points, 48-40 at the end of the third period. Then Harris got hot and came on with 16 of his 20 points in the last frame.

Romulus was good for 12 of its 24 shots at the free throw line, while Northville utilized 13 of 26.

TIME FOR DECISION — As Romulus' Tony Owens (30) heads for a layup, Northville's Rod Crane (11) prepares to see that the ball doesn't reach its destination. Owens contributed six points in Romulus' lopsided victory over their visitors who lost a 74-57 decision to the Eagles.

Sports Meridian

On probation

By TOM MOORADIAN
Sports Editor

Romulus High School is "on probation."

The action, taken by the Michigan High School Athletic Association, stems from a student melee last March during the regional basketball championship at Adrian between Romulus and Ann Arbor Pioneer.

Two students were reportedly knifed and scores of windows were broken at the high school.

Romulus is not the only school that MHSAA has placed on probation this year; there are several others. But school officials at Romulus are rapidly working to change any negative image anyone may have about the school.

One plan that the school has launched is to assign teachers specifically "to crowd control." Head basketball Coach David Court explained:

"During the football season I was assigned to all football games and I would check out our people, try to reach our athletes, identify any problems and resolve them before we had any problems."

"We had the authority to suspend any athlete we felt did not act in the best interests of the team, the school or community and, though we were circumventing coaches' authority, we had to do this to eliminate any trouble."

Court said the same job is being handled by Bill Hardy during the basketball season. And since the plan has gone into action there have been no problems.

Court, who majored in psychology and history while earning his masters from Eastern Michigan University, is in his second year as head coach at Romulus. He transferred to the high school from Huron where he managed to get the New Boston high school out of its basketball doldrums.

According to the 29-year-old coach the school has turned down an invitation to join a new league that is being formed in the downriver area which would also include former league rivals Ecorse and Rouge.

"We're not going to be in it," said Court. "We are on the road to a positive image and until we can find some league where there will be no trouble the coaches feel we should stay away."

Court said "that the other day we received several letters from Brighton commending us for the sportsmanlike manner in which the basketball game between the two schools was conducted."

"Do you know that they wanted to get out of the game because they were scared because of what they had heard about us. That's ridiculous. Afterwards they told us they were 'extremely ashamed' of prejudging us."

Court said that he also felt that troublemakers on teams serve as catalyst in stirring up the emotions of the fans and opposition, adding "he would not tolerate such people on his team no matter how good they were."

"Last year about this time we were 3-5 on the season and there were boys on the varsity and reserves who wouldn't live up to their commitments," related Court. "We decided to boot them off the team."

"Would you believe that since then we have gone 17-2?" he said.

Romulus will be put to the acid test in March. The high school has been designated as the site of the district Class A (Continued on Page B-2)

Romulus third at Trenton

How important is one wrestler? Well if that wrestler is Marvin Williams, he's mighty important.

Williams, who was injured last week on the mats wrestling in the heavyweight class against Wayne Memorial, was out of Romulus' lineup when Coach Jim Stallings' Eagles competed in the Trenton Invitational over the weekend and the Romulus team had to settle for third place.

"If we had had Williams he could have given us the 15 points," said Stallings. "But I didn't want to jeopardize his foot, so we decided to let him sit this one out."

Stallings said that he also felt that the 10 day rest during the holiday also had an negative effect on his team.

"We weren't as sharp as we were," he pointed out.

Romulus was at full strength for its first game of the new year and routed Lincoln Park 84-63 for its fifth consecutive victory of the campaign. With John Long back in the lineup, the Eagles vaulted to a 32-8 first quarter and the outcome was never in doubt after that.

Long, a 6-foot-4 sophomore who sat out the Sterling Heights game because of a leg injury, dumped in 10 of his 18 points in the opening quarter and played less than a half for Coach Court.

Teammate Tony Owens also got nine points in the initial eight minutes, and the Romulus coach emptied his bench early in the second quarter when the Eagles had moved to a 30-point edge, 40-10. They were up 44-24 at halftime and 65-50 at the end of the third quarter.

James Hall, a 6-foot-6 sophomore dumped in 23 points and picked off 27 rebounds to lead both teams in each category, while Owens settled for 21 points and Long had 18.

Randy Cole, a 6-foot-3 forward who appears to have springs in Lincoln Park's high. Romulus realized 16 of 23 (Continued on Page B-2)

Soph power helps Belleville stop co-wrestling champ

Sophomores aren't supposed to have enough wrestling experience to frustrate defending champs. But it was sophomore power that turned the tide for Belleville and gave Coach Tom Fritz' Tigers a 28-22 hard-earned victory over perennial power, Trenton.

Trenton, the defending Suburban Six Conference Co-champ, which is one of the pre-season title favorites to take the inaugural Suburban 8 crown, handed over decisions to sophomores Phil Ford and George Medley in the 107-pound and 147-pound classes which provided the Tigers with the key to open the door to their second consecutive league triumph.

"We also had another Horton in the lineup and that helped tremendously," said Fritz, struggling against the flu and in a voice so low that one had to bent his ears to hear. "But this was a tremendous victory for us."

Keith Simons and Jose Garcia continued their undefeated streaks. Simons, an all-area leftover from last year's team, who also has earned national AAU recognition on the mats, pinned Steve Stackhouse in 1:32 for his 12th successive victory (all by falls) on the season, while Garcia is 12-0 on the season after his 4:17 fall win of Jerry Layne in the 128-pound class.

Belleville's Terry Pollen also drew praise from his coach after he moved up a weight class and battled 187-pound rival, Warren Liverance to a draw-2-2.

The Horton brothers - Jim and Frank - contributed five points. Jim decided Jerry Kook, 7-0, while Frank, who had been ailing with the flu, drew with Gary Cooper, 3-3.

Belleville will return to the mats tomorrow at Plymouth. The results of the Belleville-Trenton meet are as follows:

100 lbs.: Jim Colbert (T) pinned Dave Music (B), 3:15
107 lbs.: Phil Ford (B) dec. Gene Ferguson (T), 7:32

Belleville played over what its coach called "our worst performance of the season" to trim Edsel Ford 59-51 and stayed alive in the Suburban 8 Conference basketball title race.

"We were bad," said Tiger Coach Allen Gates, "there's no denying it and we were fortunate to win this one."

Dearborn is next on the Tiger league menu and the Tigers could cause the local cagers indignation. Dearborn has managed to win one of its three league contests, "but they can cause anyone trouble on their home court."

And that's where Belleville will be heading Friday night - to Dearborn.

The Dearborn floor has caused many a visitor headaches, and there is no rational reason.

"I expect it to be a close one," said Gates.

Edsel, which has won only one game in its six starts, played on equal terms with the Tigers for three quarters. The two league teams were deadlocked at 14-all for the first quarter while Belleville held a slim 28-26 halftime edge which was cut by point, 41-40, for three quarters.

Mike Garland, Marty Miller and Al Cicotte kept feeding the Tiger scoring machine which continued to sputter throughout the evening. Miller and Cicotte managed to dump in six points each to finally tuck the game into Belleville's winning column. It was the Tigers' fourth win in six starts on the season.

Belleville also was stale at the free throw line where it managed to hit on only nine of its 23 shots while Edsel Ford made 13 of 23. The Tigers biggest problem was in defending Rob Berce who kept the T-Birds in the game with Huron played its strongest game of the season, but it wasn't enough as Monroe Catholic Central hung on to win an 83-63 conference decision from Coach Andy Herman's Chiefs.

"We were in the game all the way," said Herman, who in nearing the midway point of his inaugural coaching season and is yet to enjoy the ecstasy of winning. "Three turnovers in the third quarter gave Catholic Central the momentum and the lead for good."

The Chiefs, who are wandering in the depths of the league cellar with an 0-6 record, stayed abreast with their visitors 15-13 for eight minutes, but they fell behind 41-30 at halftime.

With Fred Cordts playing one of his best games of the season, Huron managed to cut the Monroe lead to seven, then the Chiefs hit a cold streak and lost an 18-16 third quarter duel.

Cordts, who had 10 of his team's 13 first quarter points, went on to score 23 on seven baskets and nine free throws for the game's individual scoring honors. Also in double figures were Art Sarkinen, who had 11 points.

Bob Porter and Mark May accounted for 20 and 19 points respectively for the winners, who also hit on 16 of 24 free throws. Huron utilized 19 of 26 charities.

Earlier in the week Huron made a trip to their coach's Alma Mater, Airport, where they nosedived 84-48. Herman called the game, "our worst."

"It was a bad game all the way through," he said. "Can we forget that one?"

Airport, with a 26-10 first quarter edge, put it out of reach early. The host outscored the Chiefs 18-7 in the second quarter and turned a finished below Grosse Ile (78) and Southfield Lathrup (82) in the final tabulation. However, the Eagles were above Taylor Kennedy (59), Trenton (46), Flat Rock (46), Melvindale (40) and Taylor Center (4).

The local grapplers came home with two gold medals. Virgil Smith won the 134 pound class and Brad Sm was the top performer in the 126 pound class.

Smith turned back Jabe in the finals 6-3 and also carded victories over Palance (Taylor Kennedy) in a 5:37 pin and Lange, via a 3:40 fall. Brad decided Simpson 2-; in the finals and he also claimed victories on falls over Baumgardner (Taylor) and Fsiher (Grosse Ile).

Romulus also had three silver medalists with Aaron Cross (138), John Arrington (167) who lost his first match of the season to Taylor Kennedy's Brouckner) and heavyweight Tom Nault, who was second after losing to Kemp to Lathrup, 1-0 in overtime.

Robert Morrison outwrestled Taylor's Greenough, 3-2, to finish with a third place medal.

STALLINGS shuffled his lineup for Wayne Memorial last week and almost managed to pull a major upset over the once-defeated Wayne aggregation.

Stallings wrestled Arrington as a 187-pounder and Williams as a heavyweight and the two Eagles grapplers came up with 12 points, but the host was still shy 11 points in their 34-33 nonleague setback.

Williams also suffered a leg injury in the meet, proving costly for the Eagles.

The loss dropped Romulus' over-all record below the .500 mark, at 2-3.

Romulus spotted the Zebras a 20-0 advantage before they settled down to work. However, the Eagles never were able to make up the difference. They'll return to the mats on Saturday when they take part in the Ann Arbor Invitational.

The results of the meet are as follows:

Tigers offer area fans new baseball films

The Detroit Tigers have come up with a new supply of films which they are offering for showings to Belleville and Romulus athletic groups. Several films, including the 1971 All-Star Game and 1971 World Series features, are recent additions to the Tigers' lending library. They are available for showings before groups where no admission is charged.

playoffs. Teams from Inkster, John Glenn, Wayne Memorial, Taylor Kennedy and Taylor Center will be represented at the assigned school.

You don't have to cross your fingers and hope for the best - wishful thinking never solved problems, but hard work does. And Romulus apparently is working hard to solve its problems.

I'd like to borrow a couple of paragraphs from Dave Diles, the WXYZ-TV sportscaster who recently stirred up Bruce Norris, owner of the Detroit Red Wings, when he reported that super-star Gordie Howe was disenchanted about his present "pencil-sharpening" job with the organization. Diles reported that Gordie headed for Florida to hand in his resignation and Norris reported that Diles was creating news and not reporting it.

I'm a little prejudice, of course, but I have to side with Diles. He's been in the business long enough and knows he doesn't have to go around creating news - there's too much to report and do without adding to the job.

Howe and Norris in subsequent statements to the media have denied that there has been any friction between them. But I can't see a guy who has been shoving skaters all around the ice for a quarter of a century sit back and do nothing.

It's not in the nature of man.

This, of course, is his - and Norris' problem.

If they resolve their differences, good for them. If not, again it's their problem. But I must concur with Diles when he says: "The journalist's responsibility is not to the Bruce Norris of our society, rather it is to those who seek truth and believe in its ultimate worth."

FROM HERE AND THERE: Joe Seibold, of the Cherry Hill Booster Club, tells me he knows a basketball player who is 6-foot-1 and can dunk the ball. So what, I sez, I know at least a score of players who are 5-foot-6 who can also accomplish that feat.

"Yeh," said Seibold. "But this player is a girl. And she'll be in town soon with her team to play a pickup faculty team from Cherry Hill High."

Did you say, 6-foot-1, Joe? Gee they grow big nowadays. And a pickup team to play against girls? Do you need an extra player, Joe?

And we have been informed about one MIKE BACHUS (not Backus) who wrestles for Don Haney's team at Wayne Memorial. The fans have asked us to get the name correct - BACHUS. The reason? There are about four other younger brothers, including a pair of twins, who'll also be heading for Wayne High so, they've asked us to start spelling the name correctly.

The All-Star Game film is of special interest to Tiger fans since the game was played at Tiger Stadium last July. It is entitled "Home Run Heroes" because it includes, in addition to the homer-studded action of the All-Star Game, feature footage on home run sluggers of the past.

The World Series film, awaited annually with great interest by the fans, includes all the thrills of the Pittsburgh Pirates' come-from-behind triumph over the Baltimore Orioles last October.

Another new film is "Tools of Ignorance," a 25-minute documentary on the technique of catching, with Cincinnati's Johnny Bench in a starring role. This film is a companion production to "Bulpen", a 1970 documentary on relief pitching, and rounds out the instructional series which started with "Batter Up" and "Strike Three", featuring hitting and pitching stars of the major leagues.

A novel new film suitable for groups wanting a shorter-than-usual feature is "It's a New Ballgame", which runs only 10 minutes but depicts interesting changes in baseball in recent years.

Altogether, the Tigers have more than 30 films, of general interest or instructional in nature, which fans can borrow. A list of the films available and instructions for borrowing them can be obtained by writing: Film Department, Tiger Stadium, Detroit, Michigan 48216.

Early reservations are recommended because of the great demand for the films.

BASKET GAZERS — Gazing at the ball as it slips through the loop are Romulus' Ken McMann (42), Northville's Scott Evans (55) and an unidentified Northville player. McMann helped the Eagles control the boards in Romulus' sixth victory. No. 7 will have to be at the expense of River Rouge, which has always been a thorn in the Eagles' side.

Prep swim listings

The second area high school swimming listing produced little changes as Belleville continues to dominate the area with eight of the 10 events dominated by Tiger swimmers.

Belleville, the defending Western Wayne champ, has the top billings in both relays and also leads the 200-yard freestyle and 400-yard freestyle by virtue of Kurt Cullin's 1:56.4 and 4:12.6 performances, respectively.

Brothers Jim and Dean Ackron has the best times for the 200-yard individual medley and the 100-yard butterfly while Terry Mills' efforts in the 50 and 100 yard freestyle events are the times to match.

Garden City East's Jeff Blanchard holds down the 100-yard backstroke mark. His 1:02.3 is the best turned in this season in the area while Paul Barbu, John Glenn's versatile swimmers had a 1:07.9 for the 100-yard breaststroke and that's the time to beat in that event.

The listing is compiled by Cherry Hill head coach Jerry Pawloski and in order to get on the name of a swimmer on the listing, coaches should contact Coach Pawloski at school (PA 2-5900) or at home (9-414-399).

Veteran and survivor benefits are increased

Five to 10 per cent increases authorized for 2.5 million veterans and survivors by two bills signed Dec. 15 will be reflected in February checks, the Veterans Administration has reported.

The increases are effective Jan. 1 but will not show up in checks until early February. The increases will cost an estimated $195 million the first year.

Commenting on the two new laws at a recent press conference, Administrator of Veterans Affairs Donald E. Johnson declared: "I cannot begin to tell you how very pleased the President and all of us are with this new legislation. This is chiefly because those who benefit are mostly older low-income veterans who are totally disabled and widows and children who most need this financial support."

Public Law 92-198 provides 6.5 per cent cost of living increases to 2.2 million veterans, widows and children who draw VA benefits based on the death or disability of veterans for nonservice-connected causes. First year cost of the increases is estimated at $127.2 million.

By signing this legislation the VA administrator pointed out the President has prevented hardships which would have arisen Jan. 1 when social security increases become effective. Without the legislation 1,150,000 pensioners would have had their VA pensions reduced and more than 16,000 on VA rolls would have lost their pensions entirely.

The other new law, PL 92-197, provides a 10 per cent increase for 186,000 widows of veterans who died of service-connected causes.

Called Dependency and Indemnity Compensation (DIC), such payments also are made under some circumstances to children and parents of veterans.

About 53,000 children will receive 5 per cent and 66,000 parents 6.5 percent increases under the law, which will cost an estimated $67.8 million the first year.

VA officials stressed that no application for the increases will be necessary. They will be included automatically on February checks.

Mobile home park starts Lions club

The formation of a new Lions Club, under the sponsorship of the Belleville Area Lions Club, was announced Monday by Coleman (Ron) Nash, president of the Belleville Area Lions Club.

The new club — the Rawsonville Woods Mobile Home Park Lions Club — was initiated last Tuesday, Jan. 4, at the mobile home park.

The Rawsonville Woods Mobile Home Park, consisting of 523 units, is the second mobile home park having a Lions Club. It is located two miles south of Willis on Rawsonville Road in Van Buren Township.

The new club with a present membership of 15 persons elected its first three officers:

Kenneth Bush, president; Lee Williams, secretary; and John Helprich, treasurer.

The club will apply for a state charter in the very near future.

Strikes cause major threat to farm system

United States farmers know they must compete and they know how to compete.

According to Nick Smith, chairman, Michigan State Agricultural Soil Conservation Committee, we are the world's largest exporter of farm products. The dock strikes are a major disruption and a major threat to our entire farm marketing system.

Last year U.S. agricultural exports reached a new high of $7.8 billion and farm exports contributed more than $6 billion to the nation's commercial trade balance.

If foreign buyers cannot depend upon getting a dependable quality and quantity of U.S. products, they will buy what they need from others. Some of the lost sales will probably be recovered after the strikes are over, but many will be lost forever.

Smith said that strikes of this kind also seriously affect domestic transportation needed for internal shipments of agricultural commodities both during and after a strike.

Rail cars, barges and trucks are tied up in the temporary storage of commodities loaded for movement to ports. Since these carriers cannot immediately be rerouted to domestic traffic, there is a prolonged period of severe shortages of these forms of transportation.

Smith added that the transportation and storage problem is especially difficult this year due to the large grain crops.

Corn production, the largest crop in history, is up 31 per cent, sorghum, 28 per cent and wheat 18 per cent from last year. This increase in production would be hard to handle under normal conditions, but the situation becomes critical because of the uncertain conditions and work stoppages in our nation's ports.

These are some of the problems which farmers face. They cause lower farm income and higher government costs because of the dock strikes.

At a time when we are desperately trying to get our nation's economic house in order, we all need to work together in order that we may all benefit from a strong economy and a unified nation.

The octopus is a shy creature and would rather run than fight.

would like to have instituted into their club program.

Projects will be set up in the various buildings on the 4-H Fairgrounds, including those in the craft area, photography, arts and various citizenship and leadership projects.

Experienced leaders will be available throughout the five-hour period to visit with callers and answer questions and demonstrations will be conducted during the day.

This is the first time that an "4-H Idea Fair" has been held and it is hoped that it proves very valuable to those in the local 4-H program.

A THOUGHT TO REMEMBER

BY HAROLD REDISKE, DIRECTOR

"I'll do it some time" - generally means a good intention. It often means a hoped for anticipation some day to have "free time". Days, months, and even years slip by. That "some time" never comes.

Why? Is not the answer perhaps due to the fact that one day is very much like another day? And especially for those who live their lives as though life goes on forever? Some people some times find time to "kill time". Rarely, if ever, do they realize when they kill time, they kill a part of their life time.

Time can fly quickly. It can also hang heavily. Can any one dispute time flies quickly for those who get things done? When one seems unable to get things done, should not a self examination be in order? It is a sad realization when we know we have not done what we should have done. WHEN we should have done it. As long as we are here on earth, time means life itself. God gave us life to use. We should not abuse it by wasting it....

Accessories are on view

By MARY SUE MILLER

Designed with fashion's feeling for the classic, accessories by day make an exciting impression. It gets a heady start and travels non-stop to the foot.

At the top, the hat is a small turban or toque in lush velvets and brocades—this for your best dress. For your tweedy blazer suit, the cloche with a face veil spells hat.

Bows of all sizes fill the necklines of jackets and coats. Scarves come long and narrow, the better to tie in a bow. Small enough to scatter in threes or huge to splash solo, pins and brooches reflect both classic and mod designing. You can pin three diamante flowerettes to that black dress, a huge non-such apple on that blazer.

Depending on the turnout, sporty piskin and soft suedes are favored. In your hands or over your shoulder, buttery leather "mail pouches" deliver the message. Suade comes to hand in purse sizes.

Stockings and pantyhose tend to textures-geometrics, ribs, argyles in rich dark, brilliant brights and two-tones. Nude sheers enter the picture, especially when worn under kneesies (over knee leggings) with Hotsuits. Body parts, waist-to-foot and waist-to-neckline coordinates, dovetail with separate schemes.

Shoes? Ghillies, oxfords, ankle boots, knee boots, wedgies and ankle-strap pumps of leather and suede in shades to match or blend with stockings.

Meanwhile, back at the top—wigs, wigs, wigs.

LEGLINE TRIMMERS

Amy Vanderbilt's etiquette

No need to discuss a tragic situation

By AMY VANDERBILT

"Dear Miss Vanderbilt: I have a son in the final stages of leukemia. At the onset of his illness we were flooded with expressions of interest and sympathy. We accepted this graciously, I hope.

"During the last two years his condition has fluctuated from very critical to very normal, at least in appearance. This has prompted me to give some rather lengthy explanations when people have inquired of his progress. Recently I feel that people are avoiding me and I'm not sure if it is because I have bored them with too many details, or if they simply feel bad about my boy and don't know what to say any more.

"How should I answer the people who ask about this condition in order to be in good taste and not to appear self-pitying? Under this incredible stress of losing one's child, I find it is extremely difficult to maintain dignity. — Mrs. E.N."

First, don't worry about losing your dignity. It is only normal that you should be deeply distressed and sensitive. Just say very frankly to people to whom you find it difficult to talk, "He's doing as well as can be expected. It's hard for me to talk about it. I know you'll understand."

When there is a deep tragedy of any kind in a family, people do tend to react in a very kindly and helpful way — at first. When the tragedy drags on, people are frequently at a loss for further words. They may even become fearful themselves in the face of this kind of terrible unknown. Try not to judge those who seem neglectful. They are just not able to communicate with you, deeply though they may feel, any more than you are able very well at this time to communicate with them. It is also true that sometimes those who seem most interested and concerned are the very ones you would rather avoid for one reason or another. Perhaps because they really do overstep in their anxiety to do the right thing.

Never be embarrassed to say that you don't want to talk about it, that you'd rather be quiet, that there really is nothing that kind people can

How to move indoor greens

"House plants are one of the easiest and quickest ways to personalize a new home after a move," says J. Lee Taylor, extension horticulture specialist at Michigan State University. "You might decide your old plants aren't worth the bother when there is so much other packing to do. Or, you may be reluctant to toss out all the work and care you put into growing them."

"If you'd like to take plants along, a few precautions will help them arrive safely," he says. First, you'll have to carry all plants with you - in the car or trunk. Movers usually won't guarantee the condition of plants packed in a van. And, you won't be able to water and care for them.

So, the space in the car may rule out plants from the start. Once past the space problem, you can concentrate on preparing the plant for travel. Water it well, the specialist suggests. Then set the pot and roots in a plastic bag and tie or seal it tightly around the stem.

Lay large plants on their sides in the car, avoiding drafts as much as possible. Plants should be watered at each evening stop. Very large philodendron and rubber plants may not fit into the car, he says. In this case, you can cut off several tops, pack them in plastic bags and ship in a cardboard or wooden box to your new home. These will give you starts for new plants.

If you're buying plants you plan to travel with, the succulents - like cactus, peperomeas and jade plants - are the hardest varieties, he says.

Room bonus in basement
Adding living space in a basement calls for a light color scheme and rich-looking materials to avoid creating a subterranean atmosphere.

Many decorators recommend sun colors, even for daylight basements, to make them look warmly hospitable. One approach is to panel the walls with solid lumber, choosing a lightened wood like western pine or hemlock.

Installed vertically, the boards will give the effect of pushing the ceiling higher and light-colored ceiling and floor will add to this feeling. Storage and other built-ins can be clad with the matching paneling for a custom touch.

Unightly furnaces and other appliances can be hidden with an enclosure of the same material, and using a solid panel door helps baffle noise, lends richness to the area at little extra cost.

A long window area with slanted skylights over planter space brightens a basement room.

For and about Suburban Women

Dramatic play builds creative imagination

"Early education depends in large measure on an alert and lively imagination," says Jeanne Brown, extension child development specialist at Michigan State University. "The roots of imagination lie in a child's make-believe - or dramatic - play," she explains. "Dramatic play requires that a child visualize and act out a situation that is not part of his everyday life. And, when it involves two or more people, it also requires some social commitment or cooperation."

A child can learn the elements of "socio-dramatic play" at home, Mrs. Brown says. Different family members provide models for him to imitate, either in action or verbally.

For example, Mom suggests the role and the props when she says, "Why don't you diaper your doll while I change your baby brother?" or "Daddy's building a house at his job; why don't you build one with your blocks?"

Once children begin to play together, they stimulate each other's imagination and imitative play; and the parents' job becomes less important.

To help children learn how to play, however, parents should provide information, time and props, according to Mrs. Brown.

Information comes from stories, field trips, discussions and general observations. A child can benefit from these even before he starts school.

Players need enough time to develop the theme of their play and gain satisfaction from the experience.

Young or inexperienced players may need props that are related to their play, Mrs. Brown says. As they grow older, they need less outside stimulation. A seven-year-old can often play out any theme with few or no props.

Below are lists of props that are easy to gather and provide hours of learning fun:

Restaurant - old menus; plastic food or pictures; order pad; table and chairs; placemats; waitress apron; chef's hat; money and cash register; signs: "Breakfast," "Lunch," "Coffee-10c"

Beauty Shop - five-gallon round ice cream cartons (for hair dryers); old rollers; mirror; combs and brushes; cotton balls; signs: "Hair Set - $3."

Post Office - old envelopes; all kinds of cards; advertising letters; stamp pads and rubber stamps; paper punch; letter drop boxes; telephone; tape and brown paper for wrapping packages.

Pizza Shop - round cardboard disks; pizza delivery boxes; scraps of paper or cloth for pepperoni, chopped green pepper, chopped onion, etc.; tint glue red for sauce or use play dough as a base; aprons; delivery truck; signs: "Hot Pizza," "Free Delivery."

Pet Store - stuffed, wooden, rubber or pictures of animals; cages (built of blocks or boxes); food dishes; books on animals; cash register; signs: "Fish," "Pets," "Dogs," etc.

All interested women in the area are welcomed to attend.

Michigan phasing out giant mental hospitals

By Don Hoenshell

Michigan is starting a phase-out of its giant mental hospitals in a move to smaller community-based institutions offering intensive short term treatment.

The patient caseload in state mental hospitals has plummeted 6,000 since 1966 and the discharge rate exceeds 100 a month.

Gov. William G. Milliken's signature on a bill making education for the handicapped mandatory in local school districts was a leap forward for the change in direction of the mental health program.

"No longer will handicapped children be left outside the educational system or be forced to take a second rate education," said Rep. Lucille H. McCullough (D-Deerborn).

Mental health officials said the new law will make it easier to transplant mentally retarded children who are educable back to their hometowns.

"Our problem now, and our efforts, are to move these retarded back to the

Perfect records honored

Seventeen members of the Belleville Kiwanis Club were presented attendance pins by club officers for perfect attendance at club meetings. The members and their years of perfect attendance are:

Richard Wood, and William Matthews, one year; Thomas Troxell, five years; James Fitch, three years; Edward Stoelton, six years; Bert Smith six years; Arthur Hill, 14 years; Irving Wallace, 14 years; Clyde Stapleton, seven years.

Don White, nine years; Don Meyer, 10 years; Kenneth Daniels, 10 years; Manley Baldwin, 12 years; Gerry Miller, 14 years; Eben Smith, 15 years; Joseph Clark, 17 years; and Norman Atchinson, 29 years.

Building permits issued

Building permits for the construction of four models in the new Oakbrook Subdivision 5 have been issued by the Romulus Building Department, Clayton Meldrum, department manager, announced.

The new subdivision, owned and being developed by the Republic Development Corp. of Detroit, is located south of Eureka and east of Brandt Street between Merriman and Middlebelt roads.

The final plat plans previously approved disclosed that the subdivision will have 156 single homes with three bedrooms.

The homes will consist of ranch type, bi-level and tri-level constructions.

community and to stop taking the retarded who really don't belong in the institutions," said Dr. E. Gordon Yudashkin.

Yudashkin, state mental health director, said plans are under way to create a series of locally-based centers for the mentally retarded and community foster homes for the recovered mentally ill.

The first local center has been operating 250 beds at Muskegon for three years and will be expanded to 500 beds, he said.

Wayne County will be served by the Plymouth State Home and Training School, the legislature has approved a site in Southgate and Yudashkin's staff is looking for another in downtown Detroit.

Yudashkin said plans are in the final approval stage for a $13 million Macomb-Oakland Mental Retardation Center to be shared by both counties near Macomb County Community College.

Until now the mass movement of mental patients has been handled largely under a Family Care Plan which grants families $4.65 a day to provide a foster home plus 50 cents a day for the patient.

Yudashkin's office said more than 7,000 patients are now working their way back into community life in foster homes and 2,000 mentally retarded patients are on Residential Placement under the same financial structure.

Staff members said a third procedure is placing recovered mental patients on convalescent status. This program carries no state contribution and covers those with means to sustain themselves.

The cutbacks in the hospitals result from more effective treatment, the use of new medications and the quicker return to the community.

And by increasing the number of hospital staffers to patients, through the community-return programs, Yudashkin said the remaining patients get more individual attention.

Belleville woman honored

Mrs. Anne B. (M.L.) Hicks, evangelist and member of the Campbell Chapel, A.M.E., on Whittaker Road, Whittaker, was the honored guest at a "This is Your Life" program.

The unusual event held for the surprised Mrs. Hicks, a Belleville resident, was on Dec. 12 at the church. It was given by Mrs. Lenora Nelson, wife of Rev. Eugene Nelson, pastor of the church.

Mrs. Hicks, a widow who served as assistant pastor during the illness of Rev. Nelson, resides on Rawsonville Road, Belleville. Sharing the enjoyment of the day with Mrs. Hicks was her entire family. The following members of her family were in attendance: two sons and their wives, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Turner Jr. of Holly, and Mr. and Mrs. Russell B. Turner of Ypsilanti; her seven grandchildren, Mrs. Patricia Benson, daughter of Mrs. Hicks' deceased daughter, Mrs. Thelma Robinson; little Robin Rana Turner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Turner; Edward II, Clarence, Tyrone, Steven and Michael Turner, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Turner Jr.

Others were seven great grandchildren, Robert Jr., Sandra, Anita and Anthony Glen, children of Army officer Robert and his wife Patricia Benson; Nola, Edward II, and Chrisie, children of Edward II and Kate Turner of Ypsilanti.

Another surprise for Mrs. Hicks was the presence of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Lottie Pruitt of Salina, Kan.

The guest speaker for the occasion was Rev. Elizabeth Crews of Detroit.

Besides her family, Mrs. Hicks was greeted by a number of friends from Whittaker, Belleville, Detroit, Ypsilanti and Ann Arbor, including Mrs. L.R. Hunter of Ann Arbor, a long time friend of Mrs. Hicks.

Mrs. Cleo Kersy and Mrs. Florence Turner acted as mistresses of ceremonies.

Refreshments were served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Carter on Whittaker Road. Mrs. Hicks was given many gifts.

Grease Paint...

...and Spotlights

By KIM HOGAN

The Belleville Community Players are very happy to inform you that "Never Too Late" was a success, though the combined total of our audience, we are disappointed to say, was only 183.

We understand this was a poor time of the season to present our play and hope to have a little more foresight in the future.

Our sister club, the Romulus City Players, visited our auditorium Sat., Dec. 19, but we are ashamed to admit our failure to see their play, which was presented the week before.

"Portrait of Jenny" is our next goal, which we hope to put on sometime early this March. It's a drama written by Robert Nathan.

The story is of an artist, Eben, who, when the curtain rises, is young and primarily unknown to the art world. He meets Jenny, a young girl, and quickly they create a lasting friendship. She mysteriously leaves and Eben is so intrigued he decides to sketch her. This particular sketch is sold and with it he receives recognition.

Jenny appears again, but this time a little older. At this point his only desire is to paint a portrait of her. After disappearing again, he begins his "Portrait of Jenny." With the sale of this, he receives wide acclaim for his work. Jenny appears once more, older again, to say her goodbye to Eben. This tender moment is climatic and one Eben remembers.

Because Jenny is seen only by Eben, many people believe she is unreal and only a symbol of Eben's rise to success, but there are other theories also. Please come and decide for yourself.

The play calls for four men and six women. Auditions are tentatively scheduled for the week of Jan. 17. More information will be available in the next article.

The next business meeting will be Thursday, Jan. 13, at 44140 Harmony Lane, Belleville. After the meeting we will have an ice skating party and a chili-chocolate cake dinner, Mrs. Haase's specialty.

We are looking for a building in which to store our materials or to work, or both. If anyone knows of a place which we could rent for a small fee, please contact Mrs. Judie Adams at 697-6281.

Panax president leaves NMU board

John P. McGoff, president of Panax Corporation, has resigned as a member of the Northern Michigan University Board of Control, effective last Friday bringing to an end an eight-year affiliation with the institution.

His letter of resignation was submitted last week to Governor Milliken.

McGoff, who lives in Williamston, was a charter member of the Board following its creation through constitutional revision.

In a personal letter to NMU President John X. Jamrich, McGoff disclosed he had resignation under consideration for a year. In neither his letter to Milliken nor to Jamrich did McGoff specify reasons for his action except for notice in his letter to Jamrich that the time had come for a change.

"As is true of any individual or organization," he wrote, "there comes a time for a change in one's personal direction."

McGoff referred indirectly to some of the problems the board faced when he wrote, "The events since January 1, 1964 have required of all of the members of the Board of Control a high degree of leadership and courage. There were times when we may have faltered, but had we not then surely we would have been special children of God."

He expressed his confidence that in all of its actions the board had responded to its responsibilities with honesty and understanding. McGoff also expressed his hope for the continued growth and prosperity of the university and extended his best wishes to Jamrich, the staff and faculty and the student body and closed with the statement, "Whoever is selected as my replacement will, I am certain, bring new dimensions to the Board," said McGoff.

McGoff served as chairman of the Board for two years during his eight-year tenure, was on the executive committee and was considered one of the forceful leaders of the group.

Jamrich commended the former board member, saying, "John McGoff gave meritorious services to this institution and to the state during his years on the board."

"Since I have been president of Northern Michigan University, I have found him generous with his time and his undisputed talents. He has been a strong force in support of the administration in his associations with the legislature and other state and federal officials and with his purposeful efforts which have won the confidence of his colleagues on the board. He was always thoroughly informed and a hard working member. In eight years, he missed only two meetings."

"Mr. McGoff supported every effort to increase the quality of our instructional program and of our faculty. He was also a leader in seeking financial support of the university. His own corporation, Panax, was the first to commit itself to a $25,000 contribution to the university's development fund. It ought to be known that he is giving substantially on a personal pledge and he has assisted fund officers in developing other corporation gifts."

"I am sorry we shall lose his services and I am confident I speak for all members of the board when I say they share this same feeling. An occasion like this is an opportunity to recognize the personal contributions of each board member but it is with regret that we accept with finality the fact that he will be leaving the Board."

"He has been a personal and professional friend, one on whom I shall continue to rely for support and assistance to the university."

"I can say without qualification we shall miss John McGoff on this Board. He has been strong and positive in his views, enthusiastic in his efforts to advance the best interests of the university."

County board elects chairman

This will be a year of "decision" and "action," according to Wayne County Commissioner Robert E. FitzPatrick (D-13th Dist.), who was unanimously re-elected to his second term as board chairman yesterday.

Commissioner Joseph F. Young (D-4th Dist.) was likewise unanimously re-elected by the board to serve as vice-chairman.

Characterizing the first three years of the Board of Commissioners operations as "years of assessment and preparation," FitzPatrick said yesterday that "within the next few months, this board must make a number of decisions of historic significance to the citizens of Wayne County."

Among the items the board must consider soon, the chairman said, are any ballot propositions to be placed before the voters in August or November. The county, he said, still intends to place a county home rule proposal on the ballot in the next county-wide election. It also must determine specifics for a capital improvement ballot proposal, which will require a financial evaluation of plans to break ground for a new jail this year as well as a short-term rehabilitation facility for juvenile delinquents.

FitzPatrick emphasized the need for seeking a "greater commitment of resources to deal with the critical problems of urban areas."

He said that although the board "has taken unprecedented steps to control expenditures and to improve efficiency in county operations," it was still unrealistic to hope the "limited revenues available" could be stretched to include some of the county's hoped-for projects.

He stressed that "Of necessity, county reorganization will continue to occupy much of our time and attention this year." FitzPatrick called for a full-time county executive, to be elected by the voters if the board can prevail upon the state legislature to adopt an enabling act allowing such an election.
